Task 1

You are going to read an article about sleep. Some words are missing from the text. Write the missing words in the boxes (1-8) after the text. Use only ONE word in each box. There is an example (0) at the beginning.

Teenagers Are Not Lazy, Just Sleep-Deprived

Adolescents need nine hours, and are typically the most sleep-deprived population.

According to a recent U.S. study, most teens don't get 0 sleep.

Researchers found that 1 70 per cent of high school teens 2 not getting the recommended eight hours or more a night. Experts at the University of Alabama at Birmingham say that in fact adolescents need nine hours, and 3 typically the most sleep-deprived population.

Lack of Sleep Spirals into Dangerous Consequences

Unfortunately, lack of sleep causes all 4 of problems, the least of which may 5 a teen sleeping in on the weekend. Researchers from the U.S. Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) stated that sleep-deprived teens are more likely 6 seriously consider attempting suicide. They are also more likely to 7 part in unhealthy behaviours like having sex, getting in physical fights, and engaging in substance abuse; they are also more likely to suffer 8 poor concentration, which can affect their schoolwork.

The science is clear: getting a good night's sleep is a key component of good health. Remember, sleep is not a luxury—it is a health necessity.

What is music?

Every known culture on the earth has music. Music seems to be one of the basic actions of humans. We are all aware that music and "atmosphere" go  0 .

We might put on  9  music for a quiet romantic dinner, but listen to something livelier while doing some  10  work or exercise, or when out  11  in larger groups. You might have heard of farmers who increase  12  by playing music to their animals, recent studies showing that listening to fast music when driving increases the rate of car  13 , and the Mozart Effect claims to increase  14 . Although some claims may be exaggerated, there is no  15  that music can suggest and affect our state of mind. But the reason for this is very  16 .
Why should organised sounds affect us to such an extent that billions are spent annually making music? If you are interested in the psychology of music, there are many reference books which you might want to check out.

Task 3

You are going to read a post about winning and failing by David K. Williams. Find the most suitable and grammatically correct form of the words in brackets (17-22) and write your answers in the chart below. There is an example at the beginning (0).

In the months I've talked a lot about winning and failing, too. Learning how to fail productively—to “Fail Up”—is one of the greatest secrets to full-on success.

J. K. Rowling – now Britain's 13th wealthiest woman— sets an inspiring example.

The iconic 0 (write) of the Harry Potter series, which has resulted in the sale of more than 400 million books, is also 17 (respond) for not only the most profitable but also most 18 (succeed) book-based film series in history. However, early in her career as an author, Rowling received endless rejections from 19 (publish). Even her famous Harry Potter manuscript was 20 (complete) rejected for reasons, such as “It is far too long for a children’s book” or, “Children’s books never make any money.” Her story is even more 21 (inspire) when you realize that she was a 22 (divorce) single mother who was living on welfare when her career as a writer began.

In 2000, Rowling established the Volant Charitable Trust, which uses its annual budget of £5.1 million to combat poverty and social inequality.
