Task 1

Read the following article about an American boarding school, Deerfield Academy. Some parts of the text are missing. Choose the most suitable part from the list (A-O) for each gap (1-10) in the text. There are TWO EXTRA PARTS which you do NOT need to use. Write your answers in the boxes after the text. There is an example at the beginning (0).

Deerfield Academy

Deerfield Academy, with its brick buildings, shining maple-trees, jacket and tie students and powerful graduates, is the number one New England boarding school. Soon, (0) it will see its reflection in an unlikely place, outside Madaba, Jordan. Deerfield officials are helping to establish King's Academy, the Middle East's first coeducational boarding school, at the request of King Abdullah II of Jordan, who graduated from Deerfield in 1980.

The idea is to transfer the American-style boarding school to Jordan. The plan is to bring the best of American education and create a school like no other in the region, one focused on (1)..... . The academy will have 600 students in grades 9 to 12, almost all from the Middle East. Faculty members (2)..... .

The academy and Deerfield will be independent of each other, but there are plans to start an exchange program. Deerfield teachers (3)..... . Like Deerfield, King's Academy will have small classes, competitive athletics and family-style meals. English (4)..... .

Research showed an interest among rich Middle Easterners for a school like King's Academy; only Turkey has a similar institution. Many parents (5)..... . Academy officials plan to find promising students in the region, including those in Palestinian refugee camps and small villages.

Although the academy will have an American flavour, (6)..... . All freshmen will be required to take a year of religion, at least one semester will be centred on Islam. The customary junior-year course (7)..... . The campus is on 150 acres, and like Deerfield, will contain lots of greenspace with parks. The maple-trees (8)..... .

The academy began a $100 million capital campaign, and more than $50 million in cash and donations has been raised. Construction (9)..... . Officials admit that the coeducational boarding school is likely to make many residents of the region uncomfortable. Officials expect (10)..... .

Task 2

Read the following article on how to write successful curriculum vitae (CV), and choose the most appropriate word (A-N) from the list for each gap (11-20). Use only ONE word for each gap. There are TWO extra words which you do NOT need to use. Write your answers in the boxes after the text. There is an example (0) at the beginning.

Seven Tips for Effective CV Writing

- Pay attention to detail. Don't make __(0)__ like not reading the cover letter the __(11)__ time, failing to include information the manager asked for, or beginning the cover letter "Dear Sir or Madam" when the manager's name is on the company web site. Take the time to make sure the information sent is correct.
- Do the basics. Read it several times for spelling and __(12)__, and make sure you have followed the instructions of the employer. Sending an e-mail is a convenient method of communication. However, don't let the __(13)__ of e-mails become your habit.
- Construct an effective CV. Organize your information in a logical fashion and keep descriptions clear. Include as much work __(14)__ as possible, even if it obviously doesn't relate to the __(15)__ you are seeking. Also, use a simple, easy-to-read font.
- Address the manager __(16)__, and include the name of the company and the position for which it is hiring in your cover letter/e-mail response.
- Make it easy for the manager. Use your name and the word "CV" in your e-mail header so it's easy to identify. If the __(17)__ asks for information, such as references or writing samples, send them.
- Focus on what you bring to the employer, not what you __(18)__ from the job. This is an opportunity for you to market yourself and stand out from the other __(19)__. What can you do to make the manager's life easier? What can you do to help the company?
- Be __(20)__. You won't be taken seriously if you don't have e-mail or voice mail/answering machine. If you don't have e-mail, set up a free account through Yahoo or Hotmail. Provide the recruiter with a cell phone number if your voice mail/answering machine doesn't pick up when you are online.

Task 3

Read the interview below with a woman racing car driver. The interview questions have been removed from the text. Choose from the list (A-N) the most appropriate question for each paragraph (21-30) in the text. There are TWO extra questions which you do NOT need to use. Write your answers in the boxes after the text. There is an example (0) at the beginning.

Maria Teresa De Filippis

Born in Naples in 1926, Maria Teresa de Filippis started racing Fiat 500s at the age of 22. In 1958 she became the first woman to compete in a Formula One world championship. Although she was very successful she gave up professional racing in 1959 and started a family.

Question 0

Yes. Two of my brothers thought that I couldn't drive fast and I wanted to prove them wrong. I trained on the coast and won my first race in a Fiat 500.

Question 21

My Dad was sceptical to begin with. I'd always been more interested in horses than cars, but they never raised too many objections because I won straight away. My mother used to tell me: 'Go slow and win.'

Question 22

At first they thought I wouldn't be able to compete, but then I got all the way to the Formula One. The only time I wasn't allowed to compete was the French Grand Prix. Apart from that I don't think I encountered any prejudice - only surprise at my success.

Question 23

At the time it was Juan Manuel Fangio; later, Ayrton Senna.

Question 24

Lots. He used to say: 'You go too fast, you take too many risks.' I wasn't frightened of speed, you see, and that's not always a good thing. He worried I might have an accident.

Question 25

I remember receiving £500 for taking part in the Daily Express Trophy at Silverstone in 1958, but apart from that I can't say I made very much. My contract with Maserati split all costs and prize money fifty-fifty.

Question 26

Because too many friends had died. There was a succession of deaths - Luigi Musso, Peter Collins, Alfonso de Portago, Mike Hawthorn. Then Jean Behra [whose team de Filippis had joined earlier in 1959] was killed in Berlin. That, for me, was the most tragic because it was in a race that I should have been taking part in.

Question 27

Yes, though there will always be only very few of them. The physical strength needed is not a feminine characteristic. Those bullnecks, for instance - not a pretty sight.

Question 28

I am a bit. Maybe they just don't feel like it. It's a shame because I think there would be a huge amount of interest if a woman was given a chance to race in Formula One.

Question 29

I don't like today's races much. Success is based more on electronics or the speed of the mechanics and less on the skill of the driver. In our day the drivers were friends. We travelled together, stayed in the same hotels. Today the drivers don't go out together at all.

Question 30

I have been the vice-president of the International Club of Former F1 Grand Prix Drivers since 1997 and am the president of the Maserati Club. I have two grandchildren and live near Milan.
